

WHAT IS IT?

This article provides a list of five simple questions that can provoke student thought and can be used in any content area.

1. What do you think?
2. Why do you think that?
3. How do you know this?
4. Can you tell me more?
5. What questions do you still have?

IMPACT?

Asking students direct and simple questions allows them to quickly understand that you are asking them a question and not simply making a statement. Coupling these questions with think time and short collaboration time can help students confidently respond to questions.
